WASHINGTON DISASTER THE WORST TRAGEDY IN RAILROADING IN THE NORTHWEST.

WELLINGTON, Wash., March 4—It is now certain that 115 persons perished in the avalanche which carried two Great Northern trains from the track at Scenic. Thirty-five bodies have thus far been recovered.

The work is slow as the slide covers acres and some of the victims are buried 30 feet. A heavy snow is falling, which adds to the hardship of the workers.

The tragedy is the worst in the history of railroading in the Northwest.

The bodies so far recovered were all near the surface but to get those at the bottom of the slide may take months.

The afternoon of March 3rd was filled with good things for the Palmetto Club, things both instructive and enjoyable. We had the pleasure of entertaining members of the V. I. A. of Ormond, also members of the Sans Souci Club, of Daytona Beach. Mrs. Raynor and Mrs. Weeks were hostesses.

After a few well chosen remarks by the president, Daytona's favorite and beloved violinist, Major Downing, accompanied by Mrs. Downing, held the audience spell-bound while he played Oberlander and the Mocking Bird with variations arranged by the Major, also Suwanee River.

Solo—A Legend.

An Irish Melody with Arkansas Traveller.

Mr. Lane favored us with a Song of the Soul, and an Irish Love Song, and as an encore The Silver Moon Lullaby.

Mrs. Higley, now an active worker in the Palmetto Club, formerly a Minnesota club woman, told of club work in her home state, speaking enthusiastically of library work in general and especially the Travelling Libraries of 20,000 volumes, the annual art exhibits for the state, and the travelling art galleries, lectures on arts and crafts and scholarships for working girls.

Mrs. Gardiner, a charming representative from North Dakota, does not wish us to think that her state is a snow-bound plain, peopled by Indians and over run with buffaloes, enlivened by blizzards, as the truth is that there are many pioneers from all parts of the world, cities and villages, mills, factories, libraries and school house; great herds of cattle and sheep and miles and miles of grain and corn, waving and green. In this state there are women of dauntless courage, who have divided the state into ten club districts. The watch word is "Our State and its Institutions Our Care."

Mrs. Seaman gave a brief outline of the work of the Tennessee Federation along the line of education, civic and philanthropy. Their motto is "Unity of Purpose," and they are working for better schools, better teachers and better pay for the teachers; they are also working for clean markets for health's sake, and are doing a great work in making the barren places to bloom. Club life in Tennessee is active and earnest.

Miss Thorp spoke for her native state—Ohio—with a club membership of 11,000; ten times larger than our Florida membership. Ohio club women are doing everything that can be done for the betterment of our great and glorious country. LINCOLN AT OPERA HOUSE MONDAY NIGHT.

Burwick Lincoln, the celebrated Alaskan explorer and traveler, comes to Daytona for the first time next Monday night and should be accorded the hearty welcome due his name and fame.

Perhaps it would not be amiss to describe his reception only a fortnight ago in the ball room of the Royal Poinciana, Palm Beach, the largest hotel in the world.

Only two days previous had his coming been announced, but on the night of the performance it was found that every seat in the huge ball room had been bought at a price of two dollars.

He explored Alaska from the Pacific to the frozen Arctic Seas, mapped dangerous passes, conquered the greatest obstacles, and gave to those who followed after him the safety of his knowledge.

The lights go down and upon the enormous screen is flashed one beautiful scene after another, accompanied by graphic descriptions that enthrall one by their simplicity and clearness.

He takes us to the great seal islands of the Aleutian Sea and then as he comes through the Straits of Bering, showing us the marvelous phenomenon of the Midnight Sun, a glittering form on a shadowy sea.

At the end of the Travelogue, as one beautiful scene of frozen northland follows another in scintillating succession and as the Midnight Sun, in his myriad glories, sinks behind the point of "Farthest North," the sky ever changing its colors to ones more beautiful, finally fading from the roseate light of evening to the black of night, and our flag, "Old Glory" waves out across the screen, one knows that he has witnessed an event in his life, for so far above the ordinary are the unique scenic effects that they may be compared as the wood cut of the glorious Aurora Borealis to the real grandeur of the original.

Beauty, charm, expression and perfect presentation all combine to make the Lincoln Travelogue, "Alaska, Land of Midnight Sun," an artistic triumph appreciated wherever seen.

The Ministerial Association held a very interesting session at their last meeting, Monday morning, at which time it was decided to postpone further meetings until after the tourist's rush was over, as their pastoral duties keep them very busy just now.

ATCH RACE THE TOPIC OF CONVERSATION.

ALTHOUGH LOS ANGELES WAS A BITTER RIVAL FOR THE MATCH DAYTONA BEACH WON THE PLUM.

Local automobilists are agog over the announcement of the Oldfield and DePalma $5,000 match race which will be run on the Daytona Beach, March 15th, one week ahead of the automobile speed carnival, March 22, 23 and 24. The big match was the chief topic of conversation at the club house yesterday and last night, many of the members expressing the belief that the coming together of the two greatest cars in the world, and the man who is looked on as being the greatest driver in America, and his challenger, the fearless Italian, would mean more for the future of automobile racing on the beach than anything else.

With the Los Angeles board track promoters actually advertising that the great match would be held on their track in April, and with the New York papers all expressing the same sentiment, the capture of this interest-centered event by Daytona will come as a surprise to an army of well posted automobilists.

And all of this in face of the fact that Los Angeles offered a cash purse of $5,000 and a $1,000 gold trophy to the winner, while here the club will only pay the actual expenses of conducting the timing of the races and the expenses of the officials. The drivers pay their own way and bet their own money on the result.

For months past the Benz - Fiat match race controversy has been the meat of much talk among the auto enthusiasts all over the world. The cars are the product of the two great rival factories of Europe and represent the supreme effort of the racing car designer's art.

They were originally built for the two mighty rival drivers of the old world, Hemmery, the intrepid, and Nazzaro, the daring and skillful. They were raced over the most costly race course in the world, the three million dollar Brooklands, England Speedway, Hemmery driving at the rate of seven miles an hour faster than was attained by Nazarro.

Then the cars were sent to America, the Fiat being bought by E. W. C. Arnold, a youthful millionaire of New York, sole heir of great wealth. The Benz was bought for $14,000 by Barney Oldfield, champion track driver and fence smasher, with money earned through being successful in the most dangerous and hazardous of all sports.

To Arnold, the purchase price probably meant nothing. But to Oldfield, each one of the dollars he paid for the Benz represented physical suffering and hospital sieges. Oldfield is to drive his own car, while the man of money is able to employ a less fortunate fellow to take the chances.

That the contest will develope into the most gruelling and chance-taking speed battle in the history of automobile racing, there is little doubt.

It will be run in three heats, the distance being one, two and five miles, and both cars are figured on being fast enough to smash the present records for those distances to smithereens.

The lights go down and upon the enormous screen is flashed one beautiful scene after another, accompanied by graphic descriptions that enthrall one by their simplicity and clearness.

He takes us to the great seal islands of the Aleutian Sea and then as he comes through the Straits of Bering, showing us the marvelous phenomenon of the Midnight Sun, a glittering form on a shadowy sea.

At the end of the Travelogue, as one beautiful scene of frozen northland follows another in scintillating succession and as the Midnight Sun, in his myriad glories, sinks behind the point of "Farthest North," the sky ever changing its colors to ones more beautiful, finally fading from the roseate light of evening to the black of night, and our flag, "Old Glory" waves out across the screen, one knows that he has witnessed an event in his life, for so far above the ordinary are the unique scenic effects that they may be compared as the wood cut of the glorious Aurora Borealis to the real grandeur of the original.

Beauty, charm, expression and perfect presentation all combine to make the Lincoln Travelogue, "Alaska, Land of Midnight Sun," an artistic triumph appreciated wherever seen.

The Ministerial Association held a very interesting session at their last meeting, Monday morning, at which time it was decided to postpone further meetings until after the tourist's rush was over, as their pastoral duties keep them very busy just now.

By L. C. DEMAREE.

One of Daytona's crowning glories is her incomparable beach. No one who ever set foot upon its smooth, packed sands; no one who ever pedaled a bicycle over its expanse; no one who ever drove a prancing pair of horses and listened to the popping of their steel shoes upon its asphaltum-like face; no one who ever steered a high-power automobile down the broad stretch of wave-washed and surf-packed sand but realized that it is a world-beater, a world-wonder. Go stand upon this wide speedway and see the happy souls flit by in joyous mood, and answer whether this is not one of the seven modern wonders.

The Placid, Pellucid Halifax River.

Where think you is water with more picturesque surroundings? Nearly a mile wide, fringed with tropical vegetation, artistic cottages with roomy verandas looking out upon her bosom, gamey food fishes in countless numbers beckoning, as it were, to those with rod and reel; her bosom flecked with duck and coot and snowy-winged sea birds, which sit about as if for the sport of bobbing upon the waves; watch that lubberly old white headed pelican pouch a fat mullet, and that fish hawk struggling upward with his floundering load he snatched from the water.

See the beautiful launches, spick and span, their hampers and lockers bulging with refreshments both solid and liquid ready for a cruise upon the beautiful surface. Take out your field glass and sweep the river from Ormond bridge to Ponce Park light house, then say whether the Halifax isn't a thing of beauty and a joy forever, and one of the modern wonders.

The Enchantingly Picturesque Ridgewood.

Ridgewood avenue is upon the crest of a broad ridge, straight as the crow flies and the wide-spreading branches of the heavy-trunked live oaks extend their giant arms across the magnificent vista, forming an arch, and from those extended arms great festoons of Spanish moss sway as the trade winds from the tropic seas fan them. Looking straight ahead down this white shell street one has the impression of a fairy path with elfish draperies, but as you move along and cast an eye first to the right and then to the left you see distinguished cottage homes in the most delightful settings.

See the glistening leaf of the grand magnolia which nature has varnished as no artists' brush ever could; and the cabbage palms with their burdens of showy fruit and swaying palms; see the lovely holly with its exquisite berry; see the climbing vines run riot in the trees; see the cryptogamous forms which gain a foothold on the great oaks and stately palms, and surely you will join in the chorus and say that this is a world wonder for beauty.

Surpassing Beauty of Our Cottage Homes.

No one of Daytona's attractions, perhaps, commands more nearly universal attention and praise than does the artistic cottages. The owners of these charming villas hail from every corner of the country and they bring their own architectural plans and build upon them, and, as the architecture of one section of the country differs from the architecture of another, so do our homes differ in outward appearance and structural beauty from one another. There are no monotonous rows of strikingly similar buildings but the eye, as it sweeps by, is treated to a kaleidoscopic change which keeps the mind wondering, "What next?"

It is not only the exterior of many of these homes which rivets attention; within they are models of convenience, and the finishing and furnishing give evidence of the elegance and cultivation of those who worked it all out. Indeed, it is the interior arrangement and artistic furnishing and shading, more than the exterior appearance that gives a surpassing charm to Daytona homes. This feature justly merits prominence as another wonder.

Streets and Pavements the Most and Best.

Why the Architect of the Universe chose to give Daytona the most admirable, the most picturesque natural setting of all the cities of the South is not revealed, but that such is a fact must be apparent to the most superficial observer. With such lavish wealth of natural beauty it became an easy thing for the hand of man to give the finishing touches which have wrought out the colors and outlines of the big picture.

Man did all this in the laying out of the streets with their wide margins of parkage. The entire city becomes a great park, with driveways intersecting, miles upon miles of driveways so good as to attract motorists from all over the continent.

And as for the pavements, pavements that look and act like granite, —where else between the eastern and western seas are so many miles in proportion to inhabitants? The pavement question stands with the street as one of the chief drawing cards. Till some unheard of place reports more and better, Daytona throws down the gauntlet to the world.

Squirrels, Flowers, Birds and Fruit.

Whatever one's shortcomings and however indifferent or even callous one may be to many things, the mere mention of "flowers and squirrels, birds and fruits" will send a thrill that is reflected in distended pupils and pricked ears.

For every visitor with a spare goober there is a bunny ready to come and accept your gift. He will sit bolt upright and knaw into the meat, casting furtive, saucy glances at you meanwhile.

Flowers. Usually fresh and blooming the year 'round. You are reminded of Goldsmith's couplet where

Smiling spring its earliest visit paid
And summer's lingering blossoms are delayed.

In one yard roses of variegated hues predominate; another household has a penchant for the poinsetta and the premises are aflame; another is hidden in a jungle of tall cane. Variety is the spice of life and here is where you find it.

The birds fit in, and with their joyous notes help to give fullness and symmetry to the picture.

As for fruits, choice citrus fruits, Daytona yields the palm to none for quality and quantity per acre. There are scores of citrus groves in proximity to the city, branches bending to the earth with their burdens of luscious golden globes, which for beauty, prolificacy and all desirable qualities would truly astonish you.

The Fastest Autos and The Finest Out.

The seventh world wonder, do you ask? Come, whether from Missouri or from Maine, from Kalamazoo or Timbucktu, and you will be "shown." Here is where the world's record for speed is broken with every recurring season. Autos, the biggest, the fastest, and the finest are on daily parade and the big show is as free as the pure artesian water from the thousands of flowing wells. It is a continuous show with constantly shifting scene.

Everything goes, from a 2-horse power, up to a 200-horse power, and all degrees of speed from a loafer to a two-mile-a-minute clip. You will probably catch the spirit, when you do the roads and the beach are yours. The Florida sunshine is free, the balmy ocean breezes are free, the birds and squirrels and flowers are free, the sparkling fountain water is free and you will have to go down into your wallet only for coin for auto, and bed and board.

This is no fanciful picture; it's all here. It is drawing other thousands and holding them enthralled, it will charm and hold you. Come and see.

SEABREEZE AND DAYTONA [BEACH]

SEABREEZE and DAYT[ONA] BEACH, two enterpris[ing] progressive towns on the [Hali]fax Peninsula, are geographically, although incorporated as sep[arate] municipalities. The towns [occupy] the peninsula north and south [for a] distance of from three and one-half to four miles, and extend east [and] west from the surging seas of the Atlantic Ocean to the Halifax River, the beautiful tide-water stream that sets them apart from Daytona, with which they have close communication by means of three bridges, as well as a half-hour ferry service.

Seabreeze and Daytona Beach are essentially summer and winter resorts and are making hundreds of new friends every year among those who desire to escape the discomforting extremes of heat and cold, and their hotels and boarding houses are now receiving splendid patronage from the most discriminating class of tourists.

The mean average temperature of [illegible] degrees in the summer and 70 degrees in the winter, with an occasional extra rise or drop of a few days' duration, marks this as one of the most healthful locations in any section of the country, north, east, south or west.

The ocean itself, with its marvelous beach, hard as macadam and smooth as a floor, is the greatest attraction, although earth and air and sky seem to have entered into a combination to enhance its every charm. The beach is the famous automobile race course where every world's straightaway record has been made, and all these records it continues to hold without rivalry.

The sand of this famous speedway is composed largely of the shells of the coquina clam, which are about one-half inch long and very thin. For ages Nature has been rolling them up, washing them back into the surf and pulverizing them. Examined under the microscope each particle is round, unfit for mortar, building, because its smoothness prevents its holding together, yet, strange to contemplate, the very moment a wave leaves the wet, apparently soft beach, these round particles settle down into a cement almost as hard as asphalt, beyond the comprehension of one who has not seen it. Repairs are unnecessary, as twice each 24 hours it is entirely rebuilt by the tides. The beach has a width of 300 to 500 feet, and can be used from two hours after until two hours before high tide, thus giving an average of seven or eight hours for automobiling some part of each day.

Seabreeze and Daytona Beach each have a permanent population of approximately 1500. Sanitary ordinances are strictly enforced, streets and sidewalks are well kept, and new streets are being opened as fast as the increasing population demands. Besides hotels and boarding houses there is ample cottage accommodation for all winter visitors.

Seabreeze contains a handsome opera house and a Congregational Church; at Daytona Beach is a M. E. Church. An excellent high school is situated near the division line between the two towns. Both towns have enterprising business establishments, as is evidenced by the advertisements on the left and right.

All the attractiveness of Seabreeze applies to Daytona Beach, the two towns being so similarly situated. The development of Daytona Beach has been fully as phenomenal as its sister on the north, and each year there is a substantial growth. The great sand dunes have been leveled and handsome homes have been built for both winter and all-year round occupancy. Flowering shrubs have been planted, which are covered with a wealth of bloom both summer and winter.

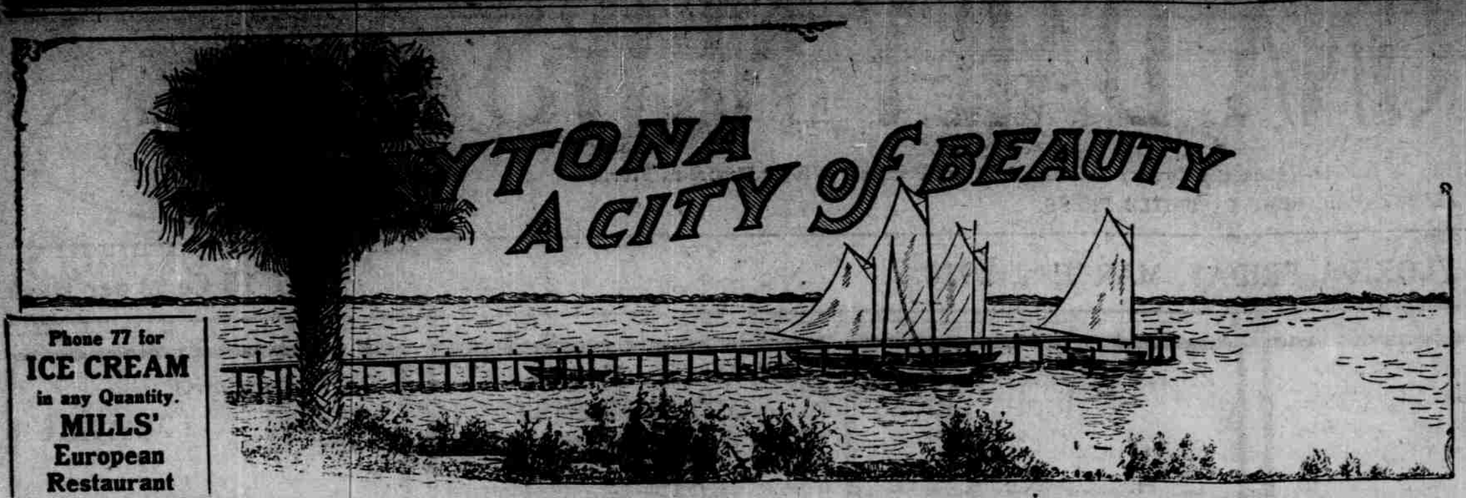

Work of rebuilding the Clarendon hotel is now in progress. This magnificent fire-proof structure, which is to contain 250 rooms, when completed will be the peer of any hotel in Florida. The site is immediately north of the clubhouse of the Florida East Coast Automobile Association.

The Ocean Pier is a great attraction to fishermen and it is lined summer and winter with enthusiastic disciples of Izaak Walton, who find it nothing unusual to land fish weighing several hundred pounds.

The ocean itself, with its marvelous beach, hard as macadam and smooth as a floor, is the greatest attraction, although earth and air and sky seem to have entered into a combination to enhance its every charm. The beach is the famous automobile race course where every world's straightaway record has been made, and all these records it continues to hold without rivalry.

The sand of this famous speedway is composed largely of the shells of the coquina clam, which are about one-half inch long and very thin. For ages Nature has been rolling them up, washing them back into the surf and pulverizing them. Examined under the microscope each particle is round, unfit for mortar, builders say, because its smoothness prevents its holding together, yet, strange to contemplate, the very moment a wave leaves the wet, apparently soft beach, these round particles settle down into a cement almost as hard as asphalt, beyond the comprehension of one who has not seen it. Repairs are unnecessary, as twice each 24 hours it is entirely rebuilt by the tides. The beach has a width of 300 to 500 feet, and can be used from two hours after until two hours before high tide, thus giving an average of seven or eight hours for automobiling some part of each day.

Seabreeze and Daytona Beach each have a permanent population of approximately 1500. Sanitary ordinances are strictly enforced, streets and sidewalks are well kept, and new streets are being opened as fast as the increasing population demands. Besides hotels and boarding houses there is ample cottage accomodation for all winter visitors.

Seabreeze contains a handsome opera house and a Congregational Church; at Daytona Beach is a M. E. Church. An excellent high school is situated near the division line between the two towns. Both towns have enterprising business establishlishments, as is evidenced by the advertisements on the left and right.

All the attractiveness of Seabreeze applies to Daytona Beach, the two towns being so similarly situated. The development of Daytona Beach has been fully as phenominal as its sister on the north, and each year there is a substantial growth, The great sand dunes have been leveled and handsome homes have been built for both winter and all-year-roud occupancy. Flowering shrubs have been planted, which are covered with a wealth of bloom both summer and winter.

Work of rebuilding the Clarendon hotel is now in progress. This magnificent fire-proof structure, which is to contain 250 rooms, when completed will be the peer of any hotel in Florida. The site is immediately north of the clubhouse of the Florida East Coast Automobile Assocsation.

The Ocean Pier is a great attraction to fishermen and it is lined summer and winter with enthusiastic disciples of Iziak Walton, who find it nothing unusual to land fish weighing several hundred pounds.

PROGRESSIVE NEW SMYRNA

NEW SMYRNA is situated fifteen miles south of Daytona and is an ideal spot reached from Daytona by a hard surface road winding through one of the most picturesque parts of Florida.

With its ancient ruins dating back to a time when the history of man runneth not, interlaced with wires of the modern telegraph and telephone, its miles of shell streets as hard and smooth as a floor and over-arched by hoary forest giants that grew in stately grandeur during the lapse of bygone centuries, New Smyrna is truly a place of romance and rest.

All nature here is very inviting to the tourist and pleasure-seeker. Here too is to be found the best fishing and hunting in the State of Florida.

The people are thrifty, the business men enterprising, and all unite in extending the welcome hand of hospitality to strangers. There are five church edifices for white people and an equal number for the colored population; the town has an excellent high school, a splended public library, and up-to-date business houses.

There are any number of pretty homes for the permanent population, which numbers close to 2,000, and some very fine winter residences. There are good hotels and boarding houses, where you can find accomodations to meet your requirements.

Adjoining New Smyrna is as fine a section of vegetable land as can be found anywhere. This land has been divided into small farms which can be bought at reasonable prices. Some of the finest celery grown in the State is raised on this land. All other vegetables grow in abundance, and here, too, is the home of the famous Indian River oranges.

New Smyrna has no bonded indebtedness and the tax levy is low.

A point that no tourist should fail to visit is the ruins of the Old Spanish Mission which stand somber and alone about one and a quarter miles southwest of New Smyrna. A good road leads to the place and the trip can be easily made by an automobile. Silent, in the great pine flats by the margin of the forest, in this place of pilgrimage for the pious; this rendezvous for the picnicker. The ruins are extensive, and while there is no authentic history of their origin, it is presumed that the Mission was built by the Franciscans in the days when the once powerful Kingdom of Spain first planted its flag upon what is now American soil. It was built of coquina, the roof being of the same material cut into thin slabs and covered with cement plaster. Extensive gardens surrounded it, which were enclosed by a stone wall, portions of which still remain. Visitors usually come in parties merry and curious but the spell of the place soon falls upon them and they separate to sit alone, silent and meditative, under the arches or beside the ancient well.

CORONADO

Is situated on the peninsula opposite New Smyrna and is connected by a good road and bridge over the deep current of Indian River. Here you can put aside your conventional garb, breathe in large and deep the salty tonic of the sea and enjoy yourself to your heart's content with rod and reel in row or sail boat or in the ocean surf a short half-mile away. The great varieties of fish inhabiting the river and lagoon pass through the channel from the sea beneath the bridge. From verandas, upper balconies and windows you behold the magnificent river, the distant lagoons and islands, the forest-covered peninsula and the vast reaches of the Atlantic Ocean.

HAWKS PARK

A pretty village located along the ridge above the Indian River two and one-half miles south of New Smyrna and connected with fine shell roads. There is the appearance of newness, comfort and seclusion about the place which stamps it as the abode of people who come here to enjoy the blessings of outdoor life away from places where crowds are apt to gather.

ORMOND-ON-THE-HALIFAX

ORMOND is five miles north of Daytona, located on the western bank of the Halifax River. The location of the town permits of good drainage and perfect sanitation; the elevation is superb and ideal for winter homes. A wide bridge connects Ormond with Ormond Beach.

Many fine residences are maintained on either side of the river, most of them embellished with subtropical flora and shrubbery, besides thrifty orange and other citrus fruit trees.

The town is very cosmopolitan, has an excellent graded school, several churches, a fine public library, up-to-date places of business and comfortable and convenient hotels and boarding houses.

Ormond has many of the Florida attractions—fine fruit, good fishing, excellent automobiling, safe boating, salubrious climate and pleasant walks and drives.

At Ormond Beach is located the large Hotel Ormond, and its lesser sister, Bretton Inn. The former occupies a position overlooking the Halifax River, while the latter has as its outlook the magnificent beach and the broad Atlantic.

The walks in all directions are particularly attractive, and the arbors, shady and inviting spots and romantic nooks are crowded with rustic seats which are mute invitations to enter into the enjoyment thereof.

Besides the broad, smooth ocean beach there are many drives for carriage or automobile—long drives and short drives; drives through groves of golden oranges; drives through dense tropical forests to Spanish ruins; drives to the ancient Causeway built by the slaves of planters of long ago, and drives to the plantations of hospitable settlers, whose places are replete with the interest of Southern fruits and flowers.

One of these interesting plantations is Number Nine, located on the peninsula, five miles north of the Hotel Ormond. Here you see a fine orange grove, together with great varieties of other sub-tropical fruits and flowers.

Five miles farther on you come to Moundgrove, one of the finest orange groves in this section of Florida. Moundgrove is on the headwaters of the Halifax River and is amid pretty surroundings. The place is reached by a good road (passing Number Nine) and is a drive all tourists may enjoy.

PICTURESQUE PORT ORANGE

PORT ORANGE is a pretty little village situated five miles south of Daytona on the Daytona-New Smyrna hard-surface road, the scenic highway of the East Coast. The town is located on the Halifax River, over which spans a bridge from the town to the peninsula opposite.

The town is well laid out and has many pretty homes owned and occupied by residents and winter tourists. It has several churches, one of the best graded schools in Volusia county, two general stores, a real estate agency and two or three hotels.

A large number of tourists and winter residents make Port Orange winter headquarters, one of the several attractions being the excellent fishing. Port Orange is in the orange belt and a number of very fine citrus groves are nearby, where oranges, tangerines and grape-fruit hang in profusion. Some of the best trucking land in the State is to be found thereabout and excellent crops are raised.

West of Port Orange a short distance are the remains of the old Dunlawton sugar mill, a spot that is visited every year by hundreds of tourists. At one time all the country west of Port Orange, surrounding the old mill, was a vast sugar-cane and indigo plantation. The mill was operated extensively in those days but has been in disuse for thirty or forty years.

A pretty automobile or carriage drive from Daytona is via the ocean beach to the approach of the Port Orange bridge, across the bridge and then passing through Port Orange to the ruins of the celebrated old sugar mill, returning to Daytona by the road on the mainland. This drive affords a very pleasing variety of scenery.

DeLAND, THE ATHENS OF FLORIDA

DeLAND, the county seat of Volusia County, is situated 23 miles southwest of Daytona and is reached from the latter city by an excellent hard-surface road recently constructed.

At DeLand is located the John B. Stetson University, one of the leading educational institutions of the South. Because of the interest in matters educational DeLand is known as "The Athens of Florida."

Stetson University has a faculty of 50 professors and instructors. There are over $400,000 in buildings and equipment; nearly $300,000 endowment; a Carnegie Library alone representing an investment in building, endowment and books, of more than $130,000. The library is the United States Government depository for the State of Florida, and contains over 15,000 volumes. Science Hall, one of the newest of 16 buildings, with its furnishings, represents an outlay of $60,000. Elizabeth Hall is one of the most beautiful college buildings in the South.

The city has a population of about 3,500, with a thickly settled country adjacent. DeLand proper is five miles east of the St. Johns River, on the high, rolling pine land of the great "Orange Ridge" of Florida.

The predominating products are oranges and grapefruit, the estimated crop from this vicinity being over 300,000 boxes this year. Grapes, peaches, pears, Japan persimmons, plums, pecans, guavas, strawberries and other fruits are grown in plenty.

In the way of public improvements are many miles of fine shell roads, an excellent high school, electric lights, a system of waterworks that is owned and operated by the city, supplying the purest water at little cost.

Nine houses of worship testify that DeLand is a church-going community. Baptists, Episcopalians, Methodists (Northern and Southern), Presbyterians, Christians and Catholics, besides colored Baptists and Methodists, are represented.

The graded school offers a ten years' course, and the building which it occupies is newly furnished throughout, and is one of the most commodious and best equipped public schools in the State.

The trip from Daytona to DeLand is made by automobile in a little over an hour, and there are many pretty drives in the vicinity of the county site. A good road leads to DeLeon Springs, five miles, a historic spot, where 60,000 gallons of water bubble from the earth every minute.

From DeLand automobiles go south to Osteen, 18 miles, on shell and marl roads; the St. Johns is crossed by ferry near Osteen and cars can then continue to Sanford and Orlando by hard road. There is a shell road from DeLand to Orange City, five miles, and a good road from DeLand to Lake Helen, a like distance.

Camp Cassadaga, a spiritualistic camp-ground is situated near Lake Helen and at this place several hundred people make winter headquarters. A large lumber mill and the largest brick plant in the South are located at Lake Helen.

ORANGE CITY

The principal attraction around Orange City is the many handsome golden orange groves. The town is supplied with water said to be the purest in the world, another attraction to visitors. It is at Orange City that passengers over the Florida East Coast Ry. transfer to carriages and drive to Deland. The town is surrounded by land peculiarly adapted to the cultivation of citrus fruits.

PORT ORANGE is a pretty little village situated five miles south of Daytona on the Daytona-New Smyrna hard-surface road, the scenic highway of the East Coast. The town is located on the Halifax River, over which spans a bridge from the town to the peninsula opposite.

The town is well laid out and has many pretty homes owned and occupied by residents and winter tourists. It has several churches, one of the best graded schools in Volusia county, two general stores, a real estate agency and two or three hotels.

A large number of tourists and winter residents make Port Orange winter headquarters, one of the several attractions being the excellent fishing. Port Orange is in the orange belt and a number of very fine citrus groves are nearby, where oranges, tangerines and grape-fruit hang in profusion. Some of the best trucking land in the State is to be found thereabout and excellent crops are raised.

West of Port Orange a short distance are the remains of the old Dunlawton sugar mill, a spot that is visited every year by hundreds of tourists. At one time all the country west of Port Orange, surrounding the old mill, was a vast sugar-cane and indigo plantation. The mill was operated extensively in those days but has been in disuse for thirty or forty years.

A pretty automobile or carriage drive from Daytona is via the ocean beach to the approach of the Port Orange bridge, across the bridge and then passing through Port Orange to the ruins of the celebrated old sugar mill, returning to Daytona by the road on the mainland. This drive affords a very pleasing variety of scenery.

DeLAND, the county seat of Volusia County, is situated 23 miles southwest of Daytona and is reached from the latter city by an excellent hard-surface road recently constructed.

At DeLand is located the John B. Stetson University, one of the leading educational institutions of the South. Because of the interest in matters educational DeLand is known as "The Athens of Florida."

Stetson University has a faculty of 50 professors and instructors. There are over $400,000 in buildings and equipment; nearly $300,000 endowment; a Carnegie Library alone representing an investment in building, endowment and books, of more than $120,000. The library is the United States Government depository for the State of Florida, and contains over 15,000 volumes. Science Hall, one of the newest of 16 buildings, with its furnishings, represents an outlay of $60,000. Elizabeth Hall is one of the most beautiful college buildings in the South.

The city has a population of about 3,500, with a thickly settled country adjacent. DeLand proper is five miles east of the St. Johns River, on the high, rolling pine land of the great "Orange Ridge" of Florida.

The predominating products are oranges and grapefruit, the estimated crop from this vicinity being over 300,000 boxes this year. Grapes, peaches, pears, Japan persimmons, plums, pecans, guavas, strawberries and other fruits are grown in plenty.

In the way of public improvements are many miles of fine shell roads, an excellent high school, electric lights, a system of waterworks that is owned and operated by the city, supplying the purest water at little cost.

Nine houses of worship testify that DeLand is a church-going community. Baptists, Episcopalians, Methodists (Northern and Southern), Presbyterians, Christians and Catholics, besides colored Baptists and Methodists, are represented.

The graded school offers a ten years' course, and the building which it occupies is newly furnished throughout, and is one of the most commodious and best equipped public schools in the State.

The trip from Daytona to DeLand is made by automobile in a little over an hour, and there are many pretty drives in the vicinity of the county site. A good road leads to DeLeon Springs, five miles, a historic spot, where 60,000 gallons of water bubble from the earth every minute.

From DeLand automobiles go south to Osteen, 18 miles, on shell and marl roads; the St. Johns is crossed by ferry near Osteen and cars can then continue to Sanford and Orlando by hard road. There is a shell road from DeLand to Orange City, five miles, and a good road from DeLand to Lake Helen, a like distance.

LAKE HELEN

Surrounded by several pretty lakes and guarded by lofty pine trees is Lake Helen, a winter resort of no little importance. Camp Cassadaga, a spiritualistic camp-ground is situated near Lake Helen and at this place several hundred people make winter headquarters. A large lumber mill and the largest brick plant in the South are located at Lake Helen.

ORANGE CITY

The principal attraction around Orange City is the many handsome golden orange groves. The town is supplied with water said to be the purest in the world, another attraction to visitors. It is at Orange City that passengers over the Florida East Coast Ry. transfer to carriages and drive to Deland. The town is surrounded by land peculiarly adapted to the cultivation of citrus fruits.

Seabreeze News

SEABREEZE, March 4—The Country Clubhouse at Seabreeze was the scene of one of the most enjoyable social events of the season last Tuesday evening. The occasion was a card party and dance tendered by Mr. and Mrs. George Farrell to their numerous friends. Card playing opened the evening's entertainment and was indulged in to the enjoyment of those present, after which a concealed band of musicians opened the "ball," and one of the pleasantest and most entertaining features of the evening was the revival of such staid and classical dances as the minuet and Sir Roger de Coverly, which was only a prelude to the more modern steps. At the close of the dance, prizes were awarded to the card winners, and the guests took their departure with enthusiastic expressions of their enjoyment of the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. S. W. McLanahan entertained at bridge Tuesday evening Mr and Mrs. Ward McLanahan, of Webb City, Mo., and Mrs. John Brenans, of St. Louis, were the guests of honor.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Woodward and daughter, Mrs. B. D. Woodward, entertained at cards Wednesday afternoon.

J. F. Street was in DeLand Tuesday.

All is activity at The Clarendon grounds now. A substantial shed for protecting lumber and other building material has been constructed. Most of the lumber is on the ground for the help's quarters, and the grading is going forward on the north side of Ocean boulevard; also trenches are being dug for the retaining wa" at the ocean approach. Mr. Wilson is a busy man these days. Still there is some delay on account of the many changes necessitated in the original plan of building.

The town council has decided to build a public dock at the river approach of Ora street. It is to extend 300 feet to deep water, so as to afford a landing for large boats, such as are expected to ply the beautiful Halifax when the canal is completed to the St. Johns river.

Miss Mary Everenden lost a handsome string of gold beads on Pinewood avenue one evening last week, and after various advertising, had almost despaired of their recovery, when they were found one moonlight night by a young lady visitor at Daytona Beach, and returned to her.

Edward Cordis and bride arrived last Thursday from Washington, D. C., and are visiting at the home of his parents on Ocean boulevard. Mr. Cordis took snap judgment on his friends and the public generally when he failed to take them into his confidence in a matter so vital to his future. Nevertheless, the young couple have the best wishes of the community for their happiness and success.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. DeFore, and Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Campbell and three children, of Atlanta, came over from Melrose for a week's visit with Mrs. W. A. Baggett, on Valley street, and left Monday afternoon on their return home. They are relatives and old Georgia friends of Mrs. Baggett and greatly enjoyed her warm hospitality.

The following party of tourists arrived from the north the latter part of last week and are pleasantly established at the Elmira cottage and Mrs. Wasson's house on Valley street: Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hamilton, Elmira, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Benson, Flint, Mich.; and Mrs. Lewis Radford, Yonkers, N. Y.

C. F. Lund, city collector, and his friend, E. Benedict, went over to Sanford today in the Gilmore car. Mr. Lund, who is a very successful celery grower, will doubtless get some notes from the Sanford celery growers.

Mrs. T. F. Everenden spent several days of last week at New Smyrna, guest at Alba Court.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry T. Phillips arrived yesterday from Atlanta, and are with Mr. and Mrs. Blanton Fortson, on Orange avenue, Daytona.

Among this week's arrivals are Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Vaught and Miss Bryson, of Greensboro, N. C., who are located in one of the Clarendon cottages on Grandview avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dock, who have been spending the winter with Mrs. Dock's sister, Mrs. D. H. Fritts, on Ocean boulevard, left Tuesday on their return to Spokane, Wash., their home city. Mr. Dock is a great pedestrian for one of his age, 73 years and walked to the Inlet and back on more than one occasion. They enjoyed their stay in Seabreeze, and hope to come again.

Miss Helen Parks is visiting Mrs. Roger Whitfield on Valley street.

The ladies of the Seabreeze Sewing Circle were as busy as bees this morning arranging for their annual bazaar when a Daily News reporter appeared on the scene at the public reading room on Oakridge avenue, and from the number of handsome fancy articles already sold, but left on display, and the interest being taken in the success of the sale by a large number of tourists as well as the residents of the two towns generally, it could hardly fail to be a success. There was a fine display of useful and fancy articles, and choice home made candies, also ice cream, cakes, sandwiches and coffee were served. The ladies are grateful for the many donations and the hearty cooperation of the winter visits.

Rev. Dr. Carter and wife, of New York, guests at the Princess Issena for sometime, have gone to Sorrento to visit their friend, E. V. Powell, a well known writer and contributor to the New York Independent. Dr. Carter and wife are perfectly delighted with Seabreeze. They expect to return here after their visit to Sorrento, and will probably build a winter home in our beautiful town.

Mrs. F. T. Everenden has recently suffered a great bereavement in the loss of her only brother, Dr. H. R. Littlefield, surgeon general of the North Pacific railroad, who died at Portland, Oregon, Feb. 18, of injuries received in a wreck. The Oregonian Daily speaks of him as one of the most widely known physicians in the Northwest. He leaves two sons, prominent professional men, one a judge on the bench.

ORMOND

Fish are said to be biting again on the Tomoka. This is a notice to the Myrta and Niagara to get busy once more.

The Palmetto Club of Daytona invited the Ormond V. I. A. to attend Reciprocity Day, Thursday. Many of the Ormond ladies took advantage of the invitation.

Mrs. J. Wilson Miller has opened a kindergarten in one of the Miller cottages to continue through the month. The little tots seem to thoroughly enjoy the, to them, unusual experience. Sessions are held five mornings a week.

Mrs. J. D. Price is slowly recovering from a severe illness from which she has been suffering since the Washington's birthday sale at the Hotel Ormond.

Recent arrivals at Mildred Lodge are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Jones, and Miss Smith, of New York; Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Underwood, New York; C. W. Sternberg, Pine Bluff; B. D. Harris, Lexington, Ky.; Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Van Dyck, Gardiner, Montana; Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hill, Cincinnati; Mr. and Mrs. Dorman, Elizabeth, N. J.

Miss S. Lemcke, of New York left Thursday for home after two months stay at Mildred Lodge.

The Fourth Day Club meets next week with Miss Weatherbee; this week's meeting was with Miss [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible]

O. B. Waldron. They came to Key West two weeks ago by the Mallory Line.

Israel Putnam took possession of his new bungalow, Ormond beach, last Tuesday. There was a delay of about two months in completing the work sufficiently for his occupancy. The Japanese Garden and some other features of the property are yet to be finished. We wonder if Mr. Putnam has yet discovered how much it costs to build a new house.

Mrs. Jessie Foster, of Buffalo, N. Y., joined her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Foster, last Friday. She will probably remain through March.

Judge J. G. Thompson expects to return to Washington Sunday. His two sisters, Mrs. James Morrow, of Danville, Ill., and Mrs. W. H. Chamberlain, of Chicago, returned Wednesday.

Terrence L. Turner left Monday for Louisiana to resume practice for the base ball season. Mr. Turner plays with the Cleveland club of the American League. He will have the position of second base instead of short stop as heretofore.

Horace F. Hartwell, who has had charge of Israel Putnam's new house since last September, left Thursday for Charleston, S. C. He is to build a bungalow about twenty miles from city. Norman McNary went with him.

Mrs. Sinrall, the postmistress wishes to advise patrons of the office against placing in the mail box unstamped letters with or without the loose change. It frequently occurs of late that the money has failed to accompany the letter with consequent confusion and loss to the postmistress.

James E. Francis has so far recovered from his recent illness that he is able to try out his new Maxwell one seat runabout which has just arrived.

Mrs. F. W. Hopkins and little grandson, of Brooklyn, are spending a few days with Mrs. H. B. Shaw. Mrs. Hopkins is a daughter of "Deacon" S. V. White, of Brooklyn, who is well known to Ormond people.

KANGAROO MEAT.

Why the Native Youngsters of New Guinea Refused It.

In certain parts of New Guinea the wallaby, a species of kangaroo, are very plentiful, and the traveler in search of sport finds the pursuit of them an exciting occupation. Wallaby steak is a refreshing change from canned meats, and the natives are only too glad to have the remnants of the carcass. A writer in an English magazine tells an amusing incident connected with the animal.

He had been ashore in one of the sparsely populated regions of the coast and secured four wallaby, an ample supply for the whole party, native guides and servants included. But he found that, although wallaby is regarded as such a delicacy that no trouble is considered too great to obtain it, none of the native boys in the party would touch it.

This was a mystery until one of them explained that they had been trained in childhood in the belief that if they ate wallaby before reaching a certain age it would stop their growth.

These boys all belonged to the part of the country where wallaby are few, and one can imagine the crafty old folks seated round the festive pot and winking at one another as the young people declined the succulent dainty.

LACEMAKING.

An Old Legend That Tells of the Origin of the Art.

Lacemaking is by no means so old an industry as most persons suppose. There is no proof that it existed previous to the fifteenth century, and the oldest known painting in which it appears is a portrait of a lady in the academy at Venice painted by Carpaccio, who died about 1523. The legend concerning the origin of the art is as follows:

A young fisherman of the Adriatic was betrothed to a young and beautiful girl of one of the isles of the lagoon. Industrious as she was beautiful, the girl made a new net for her lover, who took it with him on board his boat. The first time he cast it into the sea he dragged therefrom an exquisite petrified wrack grass, which he hastened to present to his fiancee; but, war breaking out, the fisherman was pressed into the service of the Venetian navy. The poor girl wept at the departure of her lover and contemplated his last gift to her. While absorbed in following the intricate tracery of the wrack grass she began to twist and plait the threads weighted with small beads which hung around her net. Little by little she wrought an imitation of the petrification, and thus was created the bobbin lace.

Too Realistic.

During a performance of "Captain Lapellone" at a Valencia theater some years ago an incident occurred which for lifelike effect left nothing to be desired. During the said play some of the actors mingle with the spectators in order to escape from the body of the house. No sooner had Miralles, the actor, taken his seat in the stalls than a daring pickpocket robbed him of his gold watch. Miralles seized the man by his coat collar and called out in a deep bass voice:

"Police! Help! Thieves!"

The audience, taking this little episode to be part of the performance, roared with laughter. Even the policemen joined in without stirring hand or foot.

"This is no farce!" cried the actor in tones of despair. "The fellow has got my watch!"

The voice sounded so natural that the audience broke into loud applause at "such excellent feeling." Meanwhile the thief managed to break away from his captor and escaped.

A Judicial Expert.

The native with a single root the native with a pipe.

"Howdy, Zeb?" quoth the single native. "Hear 'bout th' fuss down to th' courthouse?"

"Nope," drawled the man with the pipe. "What was it about?"

"Why, Jim Simpson has been suin' Abner Hawley for alienatin' th' affections of his wife, an' Judge Wingrove told th' jury to bring in a verdict of 5 cents damages, 'cause he thought that was all the damage was worth to Jim. An' Jim's wife got mad an' threw a chair at th' judge, an' he had her arrested an' put in th' cooler."

"But didn't th' judge go a leetle too far when he fixed her value so low?"

"Not at all, not at all! You see, he was her first husband."--Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Singer and Orator.

"If I had my way," Dr. Macnamara once confessed to an interviewer, "I should be singing in 'Carmen' instead of making speeches from the treasury bench, but unfortunately the British public thinks a great deal more of a man who can make a bad speech than a man who can sing a good song."--Westminster Gazette.

To Reform Him.

Minister--You say you are going to marry a man to reform him. That is noble. May I ask who it is? Miss Sweet--It's young Mr. Brodtipper. Minister--Indeed! I did not know he had any bad habits. Miss Sweet--Yes; his friends say that he is becoming quite sobarly.

Anticipation.

"Doesn't it make you the least bit curious to see what elegant furniture Mrs. Kyuly is putting into her house next door?"

"Not a bit. My husband says it will be sold by the sheriff within six months--and I'll be there to buy it."--Chicago Tribune.

THE FIRST CLOCKS.

One at Padua That Was a Wonder of Mechanism.

It was, we are told, in 1300 that the first clock known to the world was placed in the tower of San Eustorgio, in Milan.

The greatest astonishment and admiration were manifested by crowds who flocked to see the timepiece. In 1344 a clock was installed in the palace of the nobles at Padua. This was a wonder of mechanism indeed, for besides indicating the hours it showed the course of the sun, the revolutions of the planets, the various phases of the moon, the months and the fetes of the year.

The period of the evolution from the clock to the watch was seventy-one years--not so very long, all things considered--and the record of the first watch is 1380. A half century later an alarm clock made its appearance. This, we are told, was looked upon by the people of that age as "an instrument prodigious."

The fortunate possessor of this clock was Andrea Alciato, a councilor of Milan. The chroniclers have placed on record that this clock sounded a bell at a stated hour, and at the same time a little wax candle was lighted automatically. How this was done we are not told, but it must not be overlooked that until about seventy years ago we had no means of obtaining a light other than the tinder box, so that the Milanese must have been centuries ahead of us in this respect.

Not much progress was made with the watch until 1740, when the second hand was added.--London Globe.

TEMPTED, HE ATE.

A Story of Heinrich Heine and a Toothsome Lyons Sausage.

Returning from a journey to the south of France, Heinrich Heine met a friend, a German violinist, in Lyons, who gave him a large sausage that had been made in Lyons with the request to deliver it to a mutual acquaintance, a homeopathic physician, in Paris. Heine promised to attend to the commission and intrusted the delicacy to the care of his wife, who was traveling with him. But as the postchaise was very slow and he soon became very hungry, on the advice of his wife both tasted of the sausage, which dwindled with every mile.

Arriving at Paris, Heine did not dare to send the remainder to the physician, and yet he wished to keep his promise. So he cut off the thinnest possible slice with his razor, wrapped it in a sheet of vellum paper and inclosed it in an envelope, with the following note:

Dear Doctor--From your scientific investigations we learn that the millionth part of a certain substance brings about the greatest results. I beg, therefore, your kind acceptance of the accompanying millionth part of a Lyons sausage, which our friend gave me to deliver to you. If homeopathy is a truth, then this little piece will have the same effect on you as the whole sausage. Your Old Time English Elections.

In old time England each constituency gave its representative in parliament a horse to carry him to Westminster and also paid his expenses on the road. These expenses, together with an allowance for each day spent on duty at the house of commons, generally at the rate of 90 cents a day, were refunded in one lump sum when the member returned home at the end of the parliamentary year. Sir F. Delaval totaled seven votes in an attempt on Andover in the general election of 1768. An item in his election agent's bill is typical of the reckoning he had to pay: "To being thrown out of the George Inn, Andover, to my legs being thereby broken, to surgeon's bill and loss of time and business, all in the service of Sir F. Delaval, £500." Lord Llandaff won Dungarvan in 1808. The item "(2d) whisky" caused him to protest faintly. "Begorra," said his election agent, "if ye want to squeeze a pippin like that ye'll never do for Dungarvan."

Real Sea Serpents.

In New Caledonia sea serpents are frequently seen and sometimes captured. They are curious creatures, the head being very small and scarcely distinguishable from the body and the tail being formed like an oar. In length they are generally between three and four feet. In the jaw there are tiny glands containing poison, but as the mouth is very small it is difficult for them to bite, and the natives handle them fearlessly. A European traveler witnessed an experiment at Noumea which shows that under certain conditions the sea serpent can do deadly work. A rat was caught in a trap, and its tongue was grasped by a pair of pinchers and placed in the mouth of a sea serpent. The serpent immediately bit it, and the rat died in four minutes.

Cause of Thought.

"You look thoughtful tonight, Smith," remarked Brown as he stretched himself on two chairs.

"Yes," said Smith. "I have just got a note from the landlady."

"What does she say?"

"She says that I must pay my board at once or her daughter will sue me for breach of promise. I'm thinking what I'd better do."--London Tit-Bits.

Force of Habit.

"You know that pretty salesgirl I took home from the dance?"

"Yes."

"Well, I stole a kiss."

"What did she say?"

"'Will that be all?'"--Judge.

KANGAROO MEAT.

Why the Native Youngsters of New Guinea Refused it.

In certain parts of New Guinea the wallaby, a species of kangaroo, are very plentiful, and the traveler in search of sport finds the pursuit of them an exciting occupation. Wallaby steak is a refreshing change from canned meats, and the natives are only too glad to have the remnants of the carcass. A writer in an English magazine tells an amusing incident connected with the animal.

He had been ashore in one of the sparsely populated regions of the coast and secured four wallaby, an ample supply for the whole party, native guides and servants included. But he found that, although wallaby is regarded as such a delicacy that no trouble is considered too great to obtain it, none of the native boys in the party would touch it.

This was a mystery until one of them explained that they had been trained in childhood in the belief that if they ate wallaby before reaching a certain age it would stop their growth.

These boys all belonged to the part of the country where wallaby are few, and one can imagine the crafty old folks seated round the festive pot and winking at one another as the young people declined the succulent dainty.

LACEMAKING.

An Old Legend That Tells of the Origin of the Art.

Lacemaking is by no means so old an industry as most persons suppose. There is no proof that it existed previous to the fifteenth century, and the oldest known painting in which it appears is a portrait of a lady in the academy at Venice painted by Caspaccio, who died about 1523. The legend concerning the origin of the art is as follows:

A young fisherman of the Adriatic was betrothed to a young and beautiful girl of one of the isles of the lagoon. Industrious as she was beautiful, the girl made a new net for her lover, who took it with him on board his boat. The first time he cast it into the sea he dragged therefrom an exquisite petrified wrack grass, which he hastened to present to his fiancee; but, war breaking out, the fisherman was pressed into the service of the Venetion navy. The poor girl wept at the departure of her lover and contemplated his last gift to her. While absorbed in following the intricate tracery of the wrack grass she began to twist and plait the threads weighted with small beads which hung around her net. Little by little she wrought an imitation of the petrification, and thus was created the bobbin lace.

Too Realistic.

During a performance of "Captain Lapalisse" at a Valencia theater some years ago an incident occurred which for lifelike effect left nothing to be desired. During the said play some of the actors mingle with the spectators in order to co-operate from the body of the house.
